INCITING INCIDENT · DEI & ARTS CUTS
CULTURE WARS: PASSION VS POLICY

ALT — ART ATTACK

Does culture affect policy, or does policy impact culture? With the economy strained and DEI and arts programs cut from school budgets, culture is under attack. Rep. Crockett heads to the Essence Music Festival with Texas art, music, and fashion students to meet their industry role models — then takes their insights back to Congress.

LESSONS FROM RWANDA

Rwanda's journey from the 1994 genocide to one of the world's fastest-growing economies is a real-world case study in radical transformation. Hosted by the Central Bank of Rwanda, Rep. Crockett studies the principles that broke inertia there and asks what the U.S. can borrow.

ACROSS THE PARTISAN DIVIDE

It's no secret that Rep. Crockett and former Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene didn't see eye to eye on Capitol Hill. Here, Crockett seeks an opportunity where their unlikely union can chart a bi-partisan course for the country's future.

THE GERRYMANDERING FILES

Gerrymandering is nothing new in America, but the latest attempts to disenfranchise voters are a dark page from an old playbook. Crockett travels to Texas districts and other American counties whose voices have been stifled — giving names, faces, and stories to the people hurt by redrawn lines.
